For all of its fractures, fissures, bruises, outlandish behavior, and beserk outbursts, the United States of America is still a big, beautiful country worthy of exploration and celebration. Your summer travel plans can include otherworldly landscapes, unexplained phenomena, unique flavors, and indigenous arts.

WHAT ABOUT YOU?

We'd love to hear about more things to do, people to see, and places to stargaze this summer. If you have a favorite seasonal happening somewhere in the good ol' U.S.A., drop us a line on Facebook, Twitter, or in the comments section below.

There's another reason to linger in Bozeman, a key jumping-off point on the road to Yellowstone National Park. The Lark, a well-designed upscale motel opened in 2015, enlisted local artists to design 38 one-of-a-kind rooms and a map room that highlights the best of Bozeman. The hotel also dishes out some of the city's best street food out of an airstream at Victory Taco. Talk about a basecamp.
